

Being Silly and a Flash Christmas Sale

Description

How do gamification folk! You all ready for Christmas?

So a very short blog, you may have noticed I've taken it a bit easier this year, everyone deserves a break ?

Being Silly

It sounds very unbusinesslike, but it is so important just to do things for fun from time to time. I've spoken about Easter Eggs in the past, but I wanted to just briefly revisit them.

Easter Eggs are a reward for people who want to explore deeper than most would. I firmly believe that you should try to include them whenever you can, even if there is a risk people will never find them! It's like an encore from a band. There is always the risk that people will never see it.

Make them silly, make them fun and make people smile and feel that it was worth the effort of finding them.

So for instance. If you know THE cheat code, it may or may not do something on this site ?

Christmas Sale

If you don't have it already, I have dropped the Full Monkey Bundle (as I have just decided to call it) to £20. This is the Gamification Design Tool Kit, Inspiration Cards and Even Ninja Monkeys Like to Play: Unicorn Edition as a downloadable package – bargain!

You can grab it here until the 2nd of January ? [purchase_link id="7087? style="button" color="red" text="The Full Monkey" direct="true"]
